Al-Furqan and the Devil's Wishes

As soon as al-Furqan Foundation announces a new media release, the whole world stands by waiting for what it is, whether it is audio or something else. The mujahidin and their supporters are waiting with passion. The munafiqin and their followers are waiting with worry, asking themselves, what does al-Furqan carry up in its sleeve? This case is not new, but it increased significantly in recent years for many reasons and circumstances, including the repeated attempts of the kuffar to cover their battlefield failure by creating fake victories that only exist on the pages of newspapers and social media platforms.

It is not our habit - in an-Naba newspaper - to address the speeches of al-Furqan in the editorial pages, because the speeches of al-Furqan are enough to be published. Still, we saw that it is beneficial to talk about the latest audio speech of Shaykh Mujahid Abu Umar al-Muhajir (may Allah protect him) from many angles, to demonstrate the sincerity of the official Islamic State media, its professionalism, and its efficiency, and the extent of its effect against the lies of the official and non-official media of the enemies of the Islamic State, and their absurdity. Here, we are not comparing the two teams, because the difference between them is enormous, but because things are defined by their opposites.

The new speech of al-Furqan has come after the "analysts" drowned in their analyses and the "liars" in their lies until they wildly exaggerated and did not reach a tenth of what they wanted of the inhibition and disturbance that is the task of munafiqin and deviants, past and present, where they aim to cause unrest and disturbance among Muslims and weaken their determination. They are those about whom Allah said, "those who spread rumors in al-Madinah," where they are the ones who generate false news that cause disorder among people."

In the past, "analysts" kept "truth" to a minimum in their analyses. They try as much as possible not to stray too far from this point. They do not follow the truth and avoid falsehood, or express honest and beware of falling into lying, but only to maintain their professional "reputation" in influential media that effect the "world public opinion" or have an influence on decision-making circles. Still, today in the age of crowded amateur platforms, demagogues, and mobs, the "analysts" are no longer analyzing but wishing!! Each analyst makes their wish!! Their wish is the death of the spokesman shaykh (may Allah protect him) and exhausting himself trying to prove it! And their wish is the capture of the Khalifah of the Muslims (may Allah protect him), and he manipulates everything in the media to serve his wish! And other wishes such and such, and their wish list goes on and on, but their desires do not deviate from the wishes of the kuffar, murtaddin and the dreamers of the elimination of the Islamic State and its leaders (may Allah protect them). They are only wishes, and they only think.

For these "analysts" to achieve their wishes and unload the grudges from their chests against the Islamic State, they distort the official speeches of the mujahidin leaders, transforming their intentions into what was not intended and perhaps did not even occur to those who said it, and it will not occur. The thoughts of the believers and the munafiqin differ. The believers have their desires according to what the Prophet ﷺ brought. As for the munafiqin, their desires follow what Satan has, and their souls that command evil.

And while the imposter and swindler "analysts" cheers every once in a while, according to their analyses, their lies, and even their wishes, al-Furqan comes out and dispels their illusions, destroys their dreams, disturbs their ecstasy, and turns their wishes into heartbreaks that fall again them in anger and rage. Hopefully, after that, they will shut up and be silent, but they continue to deceive and lie, and they persist in their sin do not repent nor remember. They start a new losing round, looking for any Satanic way to continue the task of disturbing. The only way to do that is by lying and what springs from that. The Prophet ﷺ said: "And beware of lying! Lying leads to immorality." [Agreed upon] And the contemplator in the conditions of these liars called "analysts" sees the text of the Prophet's Hadith. When they perpetuated lying, that led them to immortality. They became immoral in everything until it became a trait that did not leave them. This is enough powder for the fire. May Allah save the believers and us.

So, they proceed in their analysis and judgment against the Islamic State from the misguidance of their hearts and the ugliness of their intentions, and they persist in lying! They think that everyone like them grew up lying! The same you are raised, the same you will be when you are old, Allah forbid.

From another angle, they think that the official media of the Islamic State has the luxury of time and effort to answer each one of their endless heresies and lies or refute their falsehoods that do not stop. Undoubtedly, this also comes from their misconceptions about the reality of the Islamic State media and its policies and its mechanism of action. It also undoubtedly comes from their ignorance of the ferocity of the war in the media the Khilafah soldiers are waging on fronts that are no less fierce than the wars on the military field. The mujahidin working in this critical field pay their souls and the blossom of their youth as a price for this blessed jihad in the field of speech and word. We ask Allah to accept them, grant them steadfastness, and reward them for Islam with the best reward.

And that is what counts for all the official media of the Islamic State, al-Furqan on top of them. It is preserving the media speech, pulsating with tawhid and louder with truth, enjoining virtue and forbidding vice, combining softness and harshness in their respective places, and taking from the Book vigorously; it does not flatter, it does not bargain, and it is not ashamed of the truth to satisfy desires of the scum or whims of the slaves. In all of this, there is no deviation from the Book and the Sunnah. At the same time, the speeches of what is called "the jihadist movement" deviated from the right path and fell to the point of identifying with the people of falsehood, their calls of jahiliyya, and the dissolution in their reality under the terms "keeping up with reality" and "the requirements of the stage". This is the secret to why the speeches of the Islamic State continue to exercise influence at the fore of the scene despite the high ferocity of the world war against it from all the sides of shirk and evil in the world. We should point out that most chapters of this raging war run in secret, and not many people know about it. We count that Allah knows. glory be to Him, and He is the Helper and the Supporter.

The Khilafah soldiers are fighting their war today on two interconnected, inseparable fronts: that of military confrontation and that of the word and statement, slandering the people of falsehood, nullifying their plots, and exposing their conspiracies. On that battlefield, they make the Muslims aware, warn them against the deception of their enemy, and show them the way of the criminals to avoid them, just as they show the way for the believers to follow and walk upon. There is no other way to lead to happiness in the two Worlds, and the best outcome is for the righteous.
